Downtown Dialogues in the Humanities:

Newcomb's Paradox:

A Puzzle of Rational Decision Making

at the

Greenville Museum of Art

During First Friday's Artwalk, November 3, 2017, 5:30-7pm

This Philosophy event lets members of the audience determine who is being rational when it comes to deciding what to do to get the most money—with surprising results!

Come and see for yourself!

The discussion will be led by two teams: Dr. Mike Veber & ECU senior Alex Nolte, and Dr. George Bailey & ECU senior Katharine Chandler.

Refreshments at 5:30 PM

Discussion starts at 6:00 PM

Location: 802 South Evans Street, Greenville, NC 27858
(252) 758-1946

Sponsored by the ECU Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies, the Harriot College of Arts and Sciences, and the Greenville Museum of Art
